

CALUMET BASE OILS

Calumet offers an extensive product line of naphthenic and paraffinic base oils that meet your unique needs.

CALUMET

Consistent Refinement. Unsurpassed Performance.

- Building relationships and lasting trust are at the core of what we do. Our sales, customer service and technical teams are here to partner with you every step of the way.
- Our extensive product line of naphthenic and paraffinic base stocks are engineered to meet your rigorous requirements and applications needs.
- The quality-control practices that Calumet implements regarding crude oil selection and subsequent refining processes ensure consistent uniformity and product performance.
- Calumet produces naphthenic and paraffinic base oils by using a multistage hydrotreating process operating at pressures above 2,500 psi. This process offers the unique ability to produce base stocks that meet currently established performance standards.
