To Our Valued Customer:

This letter is in response to your inquiry regarding product manufactured by Calumet and its subsidiary companies regarding conflict minerals as regulated by the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act Section 1502 and the Securities and Exchange Commission Conflict Mineral Rule 13p.

Conflict Minerals, which are minerals mined in conditions of armed conflict and human rights abuses, are defined by Dodd-Frank Section 1502(e)(4) as “(A) columbite-tantalite (coltan), cassiterite, gold, wolframite, or their derivatives [currently limited to tantalum, tin, and tungsten]; or (B) any other mineral or its derivative determined by the Secretary of State to be financing conflict in the [Covered Countries.]”

The Covered Countries include:

- |                                     |                                |
|-------------------------------------|--------------------------------|
| 1) Democratic Republic of the Congo | 6) Republic of Rwanda          |
| 2) The Republic of South Sudan      | 7) Republic of Burundi         |
| 3) Republic of Congo                | 8) Republic of Angola          |
| 4) Central African Republic         | 9) United Republic of Tanzania |
| 5) Republic of Uganda               | 10) Republic of Zambia         |

In compliance with the SEC reporting requirement, Calumet confirms that Conflict Minerals are not necessary to the functionality or production of Calumet products.

More information about the SEC Conflict Minerals Rule can be found on the SEC web site at <http://www.sec.gov/rules/final/2012/34-67716.pdf>.
